

CHILDREN, PARENTAL CONFLICT & PUBLIC SERVICES

How local services must reduce parental conflict to improve outcomes for children and young people

Thursday 22nd March, Coin Street Neighbourhood Centre, 108 Stamford Street, South Bank, London SE1 9NH

 @TheEIFoundation #reducingparentalconflict

9:30	Delegates arrive
9:45	WELCOME	Dr Jo Casebourne, EIF Chief Executive
9:55	THE CASE FOR CHANGE	Donna Molloy, Director of Policy and Practice, EIF
10.15	PANEL: WHY PARENTAL CONFLICT MATTERS FOR PUBLIC SERVICES	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Patrick Myers, Assistant Director, Children's Services, Dorset County Council Alison Priestley, Service Manager Early Help and Family Support, Newcastle City Council Chris Martin, Director for Strategic Commissioning and Policy, Essex County Council
10.50	CALL TO ACTION	Kit Malthouse MP, Minister for Family Support, Housing and Child Maintenance, DWP
11.05	REDUCING PARENTAL CONFLICT NATIONAL PROGRAMME	Donna Ward, Director of Children, Families and Disadvantage Directorate. Strategy, Policy and Analysis Group, DWP
11:35	Break
12.00	MOBILISATION WORKSHOPS #1	Participants choose 2 of the following workshops which will all run twice: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Planning for change: Maturity Matrix self-assessment Building on the introduction earlier in the Conference, find out more about using the new Matrix to support local planning. Led by Ben Lewing, EIF, and Sue Chapman, DWP. Applying the evidence in practice Interact with the research in this session on evidence-based commissioning of services to tackle parental conflict. Led by Donna Molloy and Ines Pote, EIF
12.40	MOBILISATION WORKSHOPS #2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Building workforce confidence and capability Understand more about DWP funding for workforce development, and how Local Family Offer sites have mobilised their workforce. Led by Kati McHugh, DWP, and Lucy Johns from Dorset's Local Family Offer site Making an evidence based programme work for you Explore how to get the best from evidence based programmes from the perspective of programme developers & Local Family Offer sites. Led Honor Rhodes, Tavistock Relationships, and Bridie Collins from Westminster's Local Family Offer site.
1:20	Close	